

TANNENBAUM GETS IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN

Interrupts Osborne Speech With Protests Against Blackwell's Island.

HAS MEETING IN UPROAR

Although Thomas Mott Osborne, warden of Sing Sing prison, was scheduled to be the speaker at Cooper Union last night, the greatest sensation of the night was caused by Frank Tannenbaum, leader of the I. W. W., who read a list of three hundred complaints against administration on Blackwell's Island.

Tannenbaum, who was recently released after serving time for labor agitation, last fall, was allowed to read his list. Among the principal charges were that prisoners with contagious diseases are put in the same cells with healthy men and allowed to prepare food in the kitchen and bakery, that convalescent prisoners are put in solitary confinement, that prisoners' blankets are foul and dirty and that they are forced to wear the same underwear for three to eight weeks without changing even sleeping in it.

The charges were read after Mr. Osborne's address and Tannenbaum was allowed five minutes to speak. He took up and then asked more. Supervisors of the audience and an impatient riot arose between Tannenbaum's followers, who wanted to hear him, and an equal number who did not. Tannenbaum was finally allowed more time.

Warden Osborne, in the course of his talk, denied the stories that the chief fault with penology in this State is that its various branches are managed by so many bodies with different ideas. The lack of coordination, he said, resulted in men being made criminals, returning time and time again to prison. He also advocated the indeterminate sentence, the payment of market wages to prisoners for work done while confined, so that the money may be used to support their families, and the abolishment of all brutality in punishing prisoners for breaches of discipline.

BEEKMAN SITE FAVORED.

Osborne Urges That It Be Secured
for New Prison.

Thomas Mott Osborne, warden of Sing Sing, has written to Gov. Whitman urging that the so-called Beekman site, near Stormville, be acquired for a new prison as soon as the necessary legislation can be secured. The site is owned by the State, and Mr. Osborne prefers it to the Windgate site, near Pawling, on the ground that the latter is unhealthy and a considerable part of it is unfit for farming.

Both the sites mentioned are in Dutchess county and Warden Osborne visited them recently. He is interested in prison reform. The importance of the new prison having plenty of good soil for farming is emphasized by Mr. Osborne, who said:

"As I understand it, one of the main purposes of the proposed new prison is to give our prisoners the greatest practicable amount of recreation. There is nothing so renovating, nothing which will so tend to restore the mental, moral and physical balance as healthy labor out of doors."

The money for the new prison has not yet been appropriated.

NEWSWOMAN RETIRES AT 58.

Mrs. Karp, 18 Years Near Bridge
Stairs, Is Now Well to Do.

Mrs. Rebecca Karp has retired. She sold newspapers for twenty-four years at her stand in front of Perry's pharmacy in Park Row. Her business has been turned over to her son Abe.

The newspaper she sold every morning from midnight until 9 A. M., except on Saturdays and Sundays, brought wealth to her, according to her philosophy of life. Her husband died eighteen years ago, and she has brought up seven children and sent them through the public schools. She owns the three-story house in which she lives at 87 H. street, Brooklyn, and the house next to it. She is 58 years old.

NILES TRIES NEW AEROPLANE.

Aviator Makes Lofly Flights at Hempstead Plains.

MINNEOLA, L. I., April 17.—Charles O. Niles, aviator, who returned recently from Mexico, where he sought for Gen. Carranza, made a lofty flight this afternoon from the Hempstead Plains Aviation Field to try out a new biplane, a Huntington messenger carrying machine designed by Philip Huntington, secretary of the Aero Club of America.

Niles took the machine up 7,000 feet and was up half an hour. The biplane worked to his satisfaction. Harold Kautner went up in the Huntington machine with Mrs. Catherine Knox, and again with Bergholtz Schmitt, lawyer, and Bernard Law, both of New York.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., April 17.—The inauguration of Edward Kidder Graham as president of the University of North Carolina on Wednesday will be attended by college presidents and delegates representing more than one hundred institutions.

The speakers will be President Lowell of Harvard, Commissioner of Education John Finley of New York, President Frank J. The exercises will begin at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, when Gov. Locke Craig will preside. Secretary of the Navy Joseph Daniels will act as toastmaster at the luncheon in the college dining hall in the afternoon.

The oath of office inducting the new president into office will be administered by Chief Justice Walter Clark of the State Supreme Court. On the platform with the incoming president will be seated the oldest ex-president of any Southern university—Dr. Kemp Plummer Battle. He is 81 years old. The new president is only 38 years old.

In the processionary march from the administration building to the Memorial Hall, where the exercises will be held, will be the delegates from other institutions and from the various learned societies, the trustees, faculty, alumni and students of the university, justices of the State Supreme Court, former presidents of the university, State officers and county and city superintendents of State schools.

Every college in North Carolina except one will be represented. From outside the State these college presidents will be the delegates from other institutions and from the various learned societies, the trustees, faculty, alumni and students of the university, justices of the State Supreme Court, former presidents of the university, State officers and county and city superintendents of State schools.

TUBE TIEUP BLOCKS SUBWAY.

Train Stops Under East River—
Halt Cars Behind.

A Brooklyn bound subway express was stopped in the south tube under the East River at 2:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon by motor trouble. The lights did not go out and there was no panic among the passengers.

The train remained stationary for ten minutes, tying up traffic between Bowling Green and Brooklyn completely for that period and piling up trains behind the block all the way to upper Manhattan and the Bronx. Service was resumed normally past Brooklyn Bridge at 3:30 o'clock, after a partial stop of forty minutes, but there still was a heavy tangle of trains up to and down the line. It was not until half an hour later than this was straightened out.

SEES BODY OF HER "DOUBLE."

Mrs. Burns of Troy Falls to Identify the Dead Woman.

Mrs. William H. Burns of Troy, N. Y., formerly Claudia Elizabeth Hanson, visited Port Jervis yesterday and failed to identify the body of the murdered young woman found under a pile of rocks in a Bronx swamp. Later she was taken to the Bronx county jail to see Raffell Piculio, a workman, under arrest in connection with the death of "Jane Doe," with whom she is acquainted.

Piculio expressed pleasure at meeting Mrs. Burns and said he was confident that he would soon be released. Mrs. Burns identified the fountain pen picked up near the body as one that had belonged to Piculio.

TAMMANY THINKS OF MOVING.

Will Act on Plan for Wigwam in
"Club District."

Tammany is thinking of leaving the Fourteenth street wigwam and moving further uptown. Such a proposal is to be discussed tomorrow night at a meeting of the Society of Tammany, which owns the old brick building. In a notice of the meeting sent to members a few days ago they are asked to give their earnest consideration to the question of whether or not they want to move.

The building was put up in 1867, when Tammany moved out of the present Sun building.

It is understood that real estate men have made offers for the property and that many of the society's members are willing to sell if they can find a suitable home in the "club district."

SOUGHT FOR BOXER'S DEATH.

Arthur Stebbins' Arrest Asked
After Coroner's Investigation.

A warrant was issued yesterday by Coroner Ernest C. Wagner of Brooklyn for the arrest of Arthur Stebbins, of 257 West 159th street, Manhattan, in connection with the death Thursday night in the Loughlin Lyceum, Williamsburg, of George Brogan, the Bronx athlete, following a blow he received in the left side while the two men were having a boxing bout.

An autopsy on the body of Brogan disclosed that death was due to a hemorrhage of the brain and shock. His nose was also fractured. The police report of the affair was that Brogan had died of heart trouble. The autopsy showed that his heart was in excellent condition.

When the Coroner sent the warrant to the seventh detective branch, he made it known that he would accept nominal bail for Stebbins.

BOY HELD IN $5,000 BAIL.

John Muriella, the sixteen-year-old boy who was arrested in the Grand Central Station on Friday after writing two threatening letters to Vincent Astor, was held in the Yorkville court yesterday for examination to-morrow. Magistrate Murphy fixed the bail at $5,000 on an affidavit of Detective George Barnett, who assisted in the arrest. On Monday
William A. Dobbyn, Mr. Astor's secretary, will appear and formal complaints will be made, probably for attempted extortion and carrying a revolver. Mr.
Dobbyn and acting Captain Tunney, who directed the arrest, were in court yesterday to learn the disposition of the case.

The affidavit charged the attempted extortion of $250 from Vincent Astor.
Muriella said he could not give bail and the court placed it at $2,500, but raised it to $5,000 after hearing Detective Barnett's story.

Barnett testified that Muriella had admitted that he had been hanging out about the Grand Central Station since March 27, when he wrote the first letter, and waiting for Mr. Astor. All the time he carried his revolver and his intention was, he said, according to the detective, that if he saw Mr. Astor and Mr. Astor refused to pay the $250 demanded he should shoot him. Barnett also testified that Muriella before approaching Mr.
Dobbyn in the station for the second time on Friday had been seen to shift the revolver from his hip pocket to his outside overcoat pocket. It was not loaded, but cartridges were found in his waistcoat pocket and the weapon was "broken" so they might easily be inserted.

Muriella told the police, they say, that there was no organized plot—that he was simply taking a chance in writing the letters. He denied that the white powders found on him were cocaine.
They will be analyzed.

Muriella is the son of a baker living at 174 Hester street.

Some time ago he wrote to his family that he was going to Syracuse and that at the time he was living under an assumed name at the Hotel
Delavan, in the Bowery.

QUARANTINE BACKERS TO MEET

Taft to Join Discussion of State Control of This Port.

The movement looking toward the substituting of Federal for State control at the quarantine station of the Port of New York, which has the backing of the New York Academy of Medicine, is to take concrete form at the meeting in the academy's headquarters, 17 West Forty-third street, next Tuesday night.

At this meeting, which will be addressed by ex-President Taft, Dr. William C. Woodward, health officer of the District of Columbia, and Henry James, Jr., who has recently returned from a tour of inspection in the war zone, a resolution will be presented asking Gov. Whitman to take immediate steps to obtain the transfer of authority.

In the notices of the meeting sent out Dr. E. H. Lewinski-Corwin, executive secretary of the academy, says:

"The widespread prevalence in central Europe of infectious diseases, particularly typhus, cholera and typhoid, presents a serious situation containing possibilities of great danger to the country. With the termination of the European war a tremendous increase in immigration is to be expected, especially from southern and central Europe. It is therefore vital to the interest of the country that every effort be made to afford protection from the possible introduction of these diseases."

Edward Kidder Graham.

In addition to those already mentioned will attend: President James of the University of Illinois, President Hamer of the State Supreme Court, President Matheson of the Georgia School of Technology, President Murphy of the University of Florida, President Smith of Washington and Lee University and President Soule of the Georgia College of Agriculture.
